

THE BRIDGE MASTER'S DAUGHTER

By Elisa Stone and Matthew Leahy

81 min. - USA-Peru - 2017

Wednesday March 4th, 5:15- 7:15 PM

Thompson Library - Room 165 1858 Neil Avenue Mall | Columbus, Ohio 43210

In the Peruvian highlands, a father and master of a 300-year-old bridge weaving tradition struggles to maintain his culture as his daughter tries to escape it.

SCREENING IN THE PRESENCE OF THE DIRECTORS WITH Q&A TO FOLLOW

Elisa Stone and Matthew Leahy formed Noonday Films ten years ago, filming and producing documentaries and commercial videos. They both studied documentary filmmaking in Vancouver, BC and are now based in Columbus, OH. They have been working on their first feature length documentary, The Bridge Master's Daughter for five years. Their other documentaries Montaña de Luz and Old Radicals won the Crystal Heart Award at the Heartland Film Festival and the DER Award in the International Documentary Challenge, respectively. The Bridge Master's Daughter was born out of Elisa's deep love of Peru and her passion for the stories of her people which has been reflected in the intimacy of the shooting for this film.

Abya Yala
Student Organization
Facebook: Abya Yala - Ohio State

EVENT SPONSORED BY:

CENTER FOR

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

University Libraries in connection with the K'acha
Willaykuna Knowledge Equity Working Group