Call for papers

The 25th Edition of the Annual Hispanic and Lusophone Studies Symposium

March 25th-26th, 2022, Columbus, Ohio

Keynote Speakers:

Desirée Bela-Lobedde, Independent activist and writer

Her work centers around racism and intersectionality. She writes about racism in Spain, prepares antiracist workshops, and her latest book, Minorías, is a compilation of interviews with people of color in Spain.

Dr. Cristina Burneo Salazar, Universidad Andina Simón Bolívar

University professor, writer, and translator. Her research areas are bilingual and border writing; and aesthetics linked to translation and contemporary migrations. Co-founder of the independent collective Corredores Migratorios.

For this virtual conference we welcome proposals for traditional papers, as well as other formats, including performance, creative writing, and video essay, among others that reflect and engage in a dialogue about any aspect of literatures and cultures in the Luso-Hispanic world, with an emphasis on race and gender. We accept proposals written in Spanish, Portuguese, and English. Speakers will be given 20 minutes for presentation and 10 minutes for discussion questions.

Proposals should be submitted by 02/15/22 via
